

Facility Update

While we were gone over the holidays, the construction crews were hard at work (most of the time). The exterior walls that went up at DeShazo Elementary. If you look closely at the picture, you will see some men wearing hoods who are standing on top of the building. They are not thieves trying to break in and steal something. They are construction workers who are working in very cold temperatures over the Christmas Holidays. Crews are now starting work on the inside of DeShazo where it will be a little warmer for them.

The contractor also finished the west wall of the new gym at the High School over the Christmas break, and if you drive by, you can see north wall going up this week.
